The minimum requirements to become a Correctional Officer for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania State Civil Service Commission are: a resident of Pennsylvania, at least 21 years old, having good moral character, and being able to perform the job's essential functions. New Jersey is home to two federal correctional facilities; Federal Correctional Institution Fairton is a medium security facility with a minimum security prison camp adjacent to it, and the Federal Correctional Institution at Fort Dix is a low security male facility also with an attached minimum security male prison camp. Can you be a correctional officer with a felony? This is probably one of the most commonly asked questions on this website, which begs the question, why do so many people with felonies want to be correctional officers?
